OSKP and PJD Inspire and Nurture Creativity in Children

Nurturing Young Talents: OSKP and PJD spent a day with Rainbow Kids with colourful painting and illustrations

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia – 19 January 2015 – Children are the promise of future, the assurance of greater things to come. We believe that each child is unique, full of little thoughts and amazing ideas. Creativity, like any other ability should be nurtured from young and it is important for us to recognise and provide opportunities for these talents to be expressed.

With that in mind, OSK Property (OSKP) and PJ Development (PJD) took an important step to derive the inner talent of these kids in Rainbow Home. Themed, 'Arts and Doodles' 19 children from Rainbow Home made the day special with their creative set of minds, painting six sets of canvas of what makes them happy together with volunteers from OSKP and PJD.

The canvas painting was led by artists, Ben and Ellie alongside volunteers from OSKP and PJD. They were there as to guide and paint with the kids throughout the session, making it fun and engaging to them.

"We are glad to be part of this meaningful activity and it is a real joy to see the children having fun during the session. It is important for them to develop their skills from a young age and we are pleased that OSKP and PJD has made the effort to provide such opportunity to the underprivileged children."

All children participated in the painting activity with joy as they learnt simple painting techniques from the artists and volunteers. It was a fruitful and enjoyable time for the children as they showcased their youthful imagination, translated through these beautiful work of art.
